

Nencki Institute of Experimental Biology

Open competition for the position of a Group Leader at Nencki Institute

2012-08-27

Highly motivated scientists, who completed at least two-years of post-doctoral training, have outstanding scientific achievements, and are ready to start their independent careers are encouraged to apply. The Nencki Institute is active in the fields of neurophysiology, molecular and cellular neurobiology, biochemistry, protein chemistry, cell biology, neuropsychology, bioinformatics and neuroinformatics. Scientific interests of the candidates should remain within research fields of the Nencki Institute.

For more information see <http://www.nencki.gov.pl/en/article/group-leader>